

Robert LeBlanc
General Manager
Global Consulting Services and SOA
IBM Global Business Services

Robert LeBlanc is general manager, Global Consulting Services and SOA, IBM Global Business Services. In this capacity, he has global responsibility for IBM's core consulting practice, including developing and maintaining alliances with ISVs and the performance of the six global service lines. In addition, Robert is the leader of the company's SOA efforts, directing the strategy around industry IP, skills and enablement.